CROCKER WON FROM LESLIE IN HARD GAME

Crocker Will Meet Wright in Finals Saturday

LESLIE BRILLIANT

Forced Crocker to Play His Utmost to Win Yesterday

The most exciting and closely fought game of the present tennis tourney was played yesterday afternoon by W. F. Crocker and C. W. Leslie in the semi-finals of the McGill tennis tournament. The former was successful in winning, but only after two hotly contested sets in which was shown one of the best tennis exhibitions ever seen on the McGill courts. The score was 13-5, 7-5.

Crocker took an early lead by winning the first two games but Leslie came back and playing superb tennis took the next three games. Both players used a variety of shots but excelled in the drive, both fore and backhand. Crocker took the fifth game but again Leslie came back and won through the former's serve and then won his own. Leslie had now to gain but one game in the next two to take the set, but Crocker came back through and succeeded in taking the next three games to win, all his court strategy keeping the spectators on their feet during every moment of the play.

There was scored in short order and each won his serving game three times. At this stage they again showed their serving ability which drew repeated applause from the spectators. In the eighteenth game Crocker managed to break through Leslie's serve and by superb tennis won the set 13-5.

The beginning of the second set was marked by numerous errors on both sides, the score the players piled up and played consistent tennis. Each won his serving game until the seventh game when Leslie broke through Crocker's serve and took the game. The end of the ninth game found Leslie leading by 5 games to 4. Here again Crocker showed his true genius by taking the next two games, the tenth and eleventh. Crocker now led by 6 games to 5. The tenth and final game of the match proved to be the most exciting and spectacular of the entire contest. Playing like a team and forced the first but Leslie always returned with a clever drive shot that had the former groaning and down outside of himself from the spectators. The score went to deuce at least six times with Crocker succeeded in taking the game and the match but only after a great effort.

Both contestants played excellent tennis and the large gallery were pleased and surprised to see the fight that Leslie gave Crocker. Often Leslie had Crocker going to the corners to reverse the court and succeed in placing shots that Crocker always got at easily and consistent tennis that won him the place he occupies in the semi-finals.

In the other semi-final Jack Wright defeated A. C. Abbott 6-1, 6-1. Abbott was the latter's first opponent in tournament play, his opponent was somewhat hampered but still he played excellent and placed shots great to by the experience yesterday. Tom Hailes was the referee.

The finals in which W. F. Crocker will meet J. A. Wright will be played on Saturday at 2.30 P. M.

NEW CHORAL SOCIETY WILL BE DISCUSSED

For all those interested in the formation of a Choral Society at McGill a meeting will take place in the Union Ball Room at five o'clock on Tuesday, Oct. 14th. It has been suggested that this Choral Society should be open to all undergraduates including members of the Royal Victoria College, and to the Conservatorium of Music, and the Faculty. That is, it is meant to absorb the present Glee Club in a much larger and more general society.

Mr. Clapperton who for several years has taught vocal and organ at the Conservatorium and who has had a great deal of experience in leading choirs, has kindly consented to direct the Choral Society. Howard Ellis, President of the McGill Musical Association, will preside at the meeting. It is hoped that all those interested will make their an attend.

ROOTERS' BAND FOR THIS AFTERNOON

Bandmaster Gagnier, of the Grenadier Guards, Will Conduct

A last call for recruits for the Rooters Band is being issued. Bandmaster Gagnier of the Grenadier Guards Band will be waiting at 4.30 to-day in the Union Ball Room in order to put the men through their paces. Bandmaster Gagnier stands for the very best in band music, so the training should be invaluable to those who know how to play band instruments. Credit for attendance at this practice will be taken.

Dartmouth showed what a University band could be, and what it could do in winning a match. The band that McGill wants is one that can play her teams to victory, and that can always be depended upon to dispense music on the numerous occasions that it is needed. All those who wish to get a place on this institution of McGill, must turn up to-night. A list of those specially requested to attend is published in the "Notices" column.

CERCLE FRANCAIS BEGINS SEASON

Prof. DuRoure and Prof Villard Promise Co-operation

The Cercle Francais will hold its first meeting for this season on the evening of Tuesday Oct. 14th. It is expected that a full attendance will be present, and all men students of the University who speak French, who wish to learn French, or are interested in the activities of the Cercle in any way are invited and expected to attend. The exact hour and the place of the meeting will be announced later.

The Cercle Francais is one of the oldest and most important of the intellectual or semi-intellectual societies of the University. It has played a definite part in the cultural development effected by the college outside of the class-rooms.

There is no requisite for membership in the Cercle Francais except interest and willingness to attend its meetings. A very small fee is exacted from members to cover slight expenses, including refreshments, which are served at the meetings.

Last year several successful meetings were held by the Cercle Francais but it was felt that more had not been planned. For this session the Cercle intends to have one meeting a week, at each one of which an important topic will be debated, or some prominent person will speak. The president, Wilkinson, Commerce '25, has the full co-operation of both Prof. Du Roure, head of the French Department, and Prof. Villard, honorary president of the Cercle Francais, and it is expected that a full programme will shortly be prepared. It is hoped that the interest of this year may be well up to previous, it is expected that a large number of students be present at the introductory meeting set for Tuesday, October 14th.

SOCCER TEAM READY FOR R.C.M.P. GAME

Shortly before three thirty yesterday afternoon, the soccer squad had the last hard workout before playing R. C. M. P. on Saturday. They did not let up until called in by the coaches note but in the evening of the workout, Burke Wright of the team is in fine shape and is ready for the first game.

At present, the main difficulty is that many of the men are new to each with the result that the team is not working very harmoniously. An impromptu game was played in which the forward and back lines supplemented by subs played each other. The captain expressed his satisfaction at the result. All the men played well, but outstanding amongst the rest were Keaton, Scott Bellaney and Stevenson.

R. C. M. P. is putting up a rarely strong aggregation, taking men both from Montreal and Ottawa amongst whom are several well known players.

To-morrow afternoon the McGill team will hold a very light practice. The line-up will be a heavy and exceptionally fast bunch and they should have an excellent chance of winning against the mounties. Shiller will hand out the uniforms at Molson Hall after the work-out.

DR. McILWAIN ON "IMPERIAL RELATIONS"

Under Auspices of Canadian Club

NOTED SPEAKER

Small Crowd Heard Noted Harvard Professor

Dr. C. H. McIlwain, Professor of History and Government at Harvard University who is an outstanding authority on Constitutional History spoke on "Imperial Relations" to the first open meeting of the Canadian Club which took place yesterday afternoon at the Royal Victoria College at 3 p.m.

Cy Morr occupied the chair.

It was shown that the British constitution is looked up to as a model by all the other nations. The Constitution was compared to a formula which the 19th century tried to find but failed, but which was finally discovered in the 13th century. The lecturer explained that to understand the history and development of Canada one must needs know the history and progress of the United States.

The derivation of the word "Dominions" was fully gone into and the development and history of Britain's possessions was clearly expounded. The relation of the ancient treaties with modern law was explained.

A vote of thanks was moved and seconded thanking Dr. McIlwain for his kindness in addressing the meeting which was then adjourned.

MECHANICAL CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Simon Elected Secretary-Treasurer

The first meeting of the mechanical club for organization purposes took place last evening owing to the fact that D. Boyd has withdrawn from the University. Simon was elected by acclamation to assume the duties of secretary-treasurer for the following year. Nominations were then called for a first year representative. Hagen and Row were nominated with the result that Hagen was elected.

The president point out that the purpose of the mechanical club was to make students acquainted with the construction and maintenance of industrial plants and that trips would be arranged so that the members would be able to familiarize themselves with industrial activities in and about Montreal.

The question as to membership fee was discussed and it was finally decided a nominal fee of 15 cents would be preferable to a 50 cent fee.

SENIORS GO TO TORONTO THIS MORNING

Squad Had Hard Practice Yesterday

VARSITY STRONG

Blue and White To Put Strong Team in Field

The McGill Senior Rugby team is leaving this morning at 9.15 for Toronto, where it will meet Coach Newton's Varsity squad in the first game of the intercollegiate schedule. The team had a fine workout last night and all is ready for the fray to-morrow afternoon. The practice on last Wednesday was considered a hard one but it was mild to the work that the squad went through yesterday afternoon. Coach Shaughnessy put the men through a heavy drill on scrimmage plays that lasted for nearly three hours and again the searchlights had to be turned on the scene so that the practice could continue. The coach also gave quite a bit of attention to signals and some work was also done by the halves in kicking. The practice marked the last hard one before the game and the coach made the most of it. There will, in all probability be another light practice on Saturday morning at the Varsity stadium to put the finishing touches on the plays and to get all the kinks out of the joints after the long ride on the train. The coach, while not making any definite declaration, is in a very optimistic mood, and the team is quietly confident of victory.

Varsity, smarting under the defeat of last year is putting a strong team into the field. In the back field are Snyder, Pequegnat and Sommerville who figured well in all the games last year. Captain Snyder in all reports is going stronger than last year and will be a strong factor for Varsity. Sommerville and Pequegnat are playing the same good game and Stollery of last year's squad is doing well at flying wing. The line is almost intact from last year and all the men have rounded in to form. It is reported in Toronto that the Varsity squad is one of the best in years and very much stronger than last year. The team has a number of trick plays that are expected to fool the McGill backs but it might be well to remember that plays that are equally effective. Sat. McGill also may have a few trick ideas will fall the fate!

BIG GAME RESULTS WILL BE POSTED

Union Will Supply Both Eats and News

Special service is being provided for posting the results of the big games this Saturday to the students. While Mr. Hannegan is arranging a special afternoon tea, the news of the games as it comes in at the end of each quarter will be posted on the notice board in the cafeteria.

While our luckier brethren who are able to go to Toronto are rolling themselves hoarse at the Varsity Stadium, those who drops in the Cafeteria will be regaled with both food and news. News from Toronto will be flashed at the end of each quarter to the Star office. Through the kindness of the Star, this news will come by wire in the Cafeteria.

From Toronto will come news of the McGill-Varsity game and of the M. A. A. A.-Tiger game. From Ottawa will speed the account of the Ottawa-Tiger game. In addition to this the answer to the question as to whether Washington is going to be disappointed in its baseball heroes in the world's series or not, will be posted.

Further announcement as to this service will be made in the Daily to-morrow.

"I say, George," said the young business man to his friend, "where do you buy your typewriter ribbons?"

"I don't," replied the other, without thinking; "I usually buy her flowers."

Gates Open Like Magic Before Holders of Coupons

Can anyone have forgotten the stirring times last spring when excitement was high over the five dollar levy? Suggestions which touch a student's pocket are not lightly to be passed over and the pages of the daily burned for a time with arguments for and against arguments which at times became almost personal.

However, McGill decided to try the experiment, and at the opening of the term a book of tickets was placed in the hands of every student. Today be

CUP DONOR HAD VARIED CAREER

First Football Game Recalls Yates Cup Donor

With the big game at Toronto a few short hours off it is interesting to note that the cup for which the teams will battle and which now graces the halls of Queen's was given by a McGill man who was not only interested in intercollegiate football but at one time fought for the honour of the red and white. Dr. H. S. Yates who died overseas in 1916 while on active service, presented the cup in 1898 and since then it has keenly stimulated the football competition of the eastern universities. For the past two years the cup has remained at Queen's and since it was first presented 26 years ago, it has been in possession of McGill on only five occasions.

Dr. Yates, the donor, was during his college days not only an athlete of high calibre but a keen student. He was born in Brantford, Ontario went to school in England, graduated with his B. A. degree from Cambridge and returning to Canada came to McGill and joined the class of Med '84. While at college he played football and for one year captained the McGill men. In 1889 he returned to his Alma Mater as a demonstrator in Pathology and in 1890 received the appointment of lecturer in Bacteriology. He was regimental surgeon of the Victoria Rifles from 1900 on, and following his death in 1916 his manifold services to McGill were recognized by the placing of a stained glass window in the Medical Building on which is fitting terms, the work of Dr. Yates both in the service of his college and his country is enumerated.

INITIAL MEETING OF R.V.C. UNDERGRADS

Address of Welcome Given by Miss Hurlbatt

The first meeting of the R. V. C. undergraduate society was held Wednesday in the Common room.

The President, Miss Hurd opened the meeting by welcoming the newcomers in college.

Miss Hurlbatt gave an address in which she urged members of the upper years to help the freshers to get the most out of their College life.

The first year students were strongly advised to make good use of the library and also to join as many societies as possible though the danger of over-activity was pointed out, as knowledge is of little use unless it is well-considered and assimilated. Miss Hurlbatt recommended that every student have a life purpose when she enters college.

The financial report of last year was read by the former secretary Miss Gilman '25 and Miss M. Gordon '25 were elected in the reading room Committee. Miss McQuat Miss Parker Miss B. Green and Miss J. Reid were elected to form a library Committee.

It was decided to offer the M. S. P. E. students the use of the Common room during lecture hours.

R.V.C. TOURNAMENT AT THIRD ROUND

Consolation Matches Started Yesterday

The second round of the R. V. C. tennis tournament was completed yesterday, much enthusiasm has been shown so far and for the most part the scores have indicated close play.

Among those players who have distinguished themselves in previous tournaments T. Stocking, R. Dunbar, M. De Blois, and G. Cameron are still in the running, and in addition to these there are several newcomers to the college who are displaying some excellent tennis, so that the tournament should prove most interesting.

Owing to the large entry list no time should be lost in playing off the matches. The third round will consist of the following matches:

B. Tweedie vs. K. Perrin.
D. Hutchison vs. M. DeBlois.
G. Cameron vs. M. McMurtry.
T. Stocking vs. L. Saunders.
D. M. Roberts vs. I. Miller.
E. Cochrane vs. R. Dunbar.
L. Osoharsky vs. A. Shaw.

A Consolation tournament for those who lost in the first round has started, and a few matches in this tournament were played yesterday.

George—No, dear, of course not. I was only thinking of all the nice girls I can't marry.

RIFLE ASSOCIATION OPEN TO RECRUITS

Trip to Point aux Trembles Ranges Sunday

It was announced at a meeting of the Rifle Association yesterday that recruits are desired by that organization. Some of last year's crack shots, such as Reynolds, Shotwell and Wilson, have graduated and their places need to be filled by new men, if last years' successes are to be repeated. Last year the association succeeded in capturing the Birkett trophy, which is accompanied by eight smaller cups, one for each of the teams. A cup offered by the government also fell as a reward for the efforts put forward.

Yerxa, the secretary of the association has been corresponding during the summer with the Student's Council, in an effort to have an award, such as is given in other branches of sport, given to those who win a place on the team. The matter has not yet been definitely settled.

Arrangements are being made to provide some sort of ensignia for all those on the associatio, an idea advanced by Whelan last year.

Yerxa emphasized, in closing, that all new men who desire to shoot this Sunday must assemble in Strathcona Hall at 9. a. m. A lunch must be brought as it cannot be provided at Point aux Trembles. He also advised men to bring some warm clothing to wear at the ranges. Ammunition will be provided free.

HIGH HURDLE RACE TO BE FAST EVENT

Consiglio, Pierce and Darling Will Battle for Title

TORONTO RESULTS.

Blue and White Have Powerful Squad on Track

This afternoon at 2.15 the University track meet will be held at the stadium. Lined up in the various events are a score or more of runners who in the past few years have aided McGill to hold the intercollegiate title. This afternoon they are divided into their respective Faculties and will furnish keen competition for the spectators. Not only will this side of the sport tend to make the runners travel but the selection of the team depends more or less on the showing that the men make in the various events. Then too below a printed the record that the Toronto athletes turned in for their meet which was held last Wednesday. These times will set a goal for the track men to aim for and to equal them will be difficult.

The feature of the meet at Toronto took place when Russell broke the tape in the hundred yard dash ten seconds after the start and equalling the University record. Perry and Morrison were not a pace behind the leader who won by a leap over the line. A. L. Christie led a fast field in the 440 and was timed in 52 and 1-5 seconds. This runner is one of the best in Canada and will without doubt turn in a splendid race in the meet at Kingston. The Toronto results were as follows:

100 yard dash. First heat—1, H. Russell, S.P.S.; 2, J. W. Blair, Victoria. Time—10 2-5 seconds.

Second heat—1, C. Mathew, V.C.; 2, G. E. Thompson, O.A.C. Time—11 sec.

MONTREAL, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1924.

MR. FRESHMAN

Far be it from us to criticize so early the humble freshmen who have so recently graced our halls of learning, but the type of enthusiasm they are showing at present is not exactly what we expected to see. It is true that the principal reason they have come to college to get an education, and they will get one, mostly according to their own idea of what should be. If they consider that book knowledge is the sole end in view, or that athletics alone are the royal road, or that a university is a place to "fuss," they are to be heartily pitied. Our humble opinion is that education consists of all of these, even to the last mentioned infamy. Our big lament is that the majority of freshmen have so far shown so little interest in some of the things in which they should be showing a great deal of enthusiasm.

Very recently two well advertised rooting practices have been held and the newcomers to McGill were very conspicuously absent. Drastic plans have been suggested in which the sophomores were to take part, but the Students' Council justly frowns on such measures. We feel that if a freshman has no desire to take an active part in University activities, and especially in such an indispensible thing as the Rooters' Club, of which they are all members, no good can come of trying to force "College Spirit" into their system. So we leave it to you, Mr. Freshman. If you feel that you can come out to learn, in one or two short practices, how to cheer your teams in the way that your predecessors have done, you will be doing only what thousands of loyal students have done before. One or two hours each week can easily be given to this activity. We ask your support, Mr. Freshman.

CONDENSED COMMENT.

Nearly twenty well-trained senior rugby stars leave this morning for the Queen City, where they will match their brain and brawn against brain and brawn with the best that Toronto Varsity can offer in rugby material. When the two old rivals—and they have always been friendly rivals—meet Saturday, there will be few opinions advanced in favour of either team carrying away victory. Confidentially, we are inclined to think that the Red and White squad will prove a revelation to the Toronto enthusiasts.

Throughout the year other gates will be thrown open in the same manner or, if preferred, will serve for credit on the purchase of reserved seats.

Not only can a student now see all the games at less cost than he could last year, but the fact that attendance at games will be greater this year will do much to create a more enthusiastic spirit towards all McGill activities. Report Of The Principal

The solution may lie in the introduction of a pre-college year, between matriculation and the first year of an Art or Science Course. It may lie in some rearrangement of the course as at present laid down. We must make sure at least, in any event, that our degree involves an academic standard as high as that of any other University.

We may, perhaps sum up the foregoing remarks by saying that so far as duty of the University to the undergraduate concerns purely academic matters, the graduate is not to fill his head with a mixed assortment of knowledge of various subjects, but to teach him how to work. For the young man who has not enough ambition to devote himself to making the most of such guidance, to working upon his own initiative in order to gain an education, there is no real place at a University. The University on the other hand, is doing less than its duty if it fails to inspire such of the men who come to McGill without any very difinite idea, should, even during their first year, gain a conception of educational methods which will enable them to obtain the greatest benefit from their college course.

Progress In Organization Of The University

The most important development which took place during the session 1923-24, and, indeed, one of the most important which the University has seen in many years, was the reorganization of the Department of Medicine in the Faculty of Medicine. For many years there has been under consideration the possibility of putting the Department of Medicine on a full time basis, thus adopting a system which was suggested by the late Sir William Osler. Some of the advantages of such an organization were mentioned in the University Report of the session 1922-23, and it is perhaps unnecessary to recapitulate them here. It might, however, be repeated that the objects aimed at are: first, the treatment of patients in a University clinic by a physician of the highest skill who joins in himself the head of University Department of Medicine and of the medical service of the hospital. This reorganization aims, secondly, at the thorough teaching of medicine in a manner parallel to that used in dealing with such subjects as Anatomy and Physiology. Thirdly, it is directed towards the provision of adequate facilities for research. It must always be borne in mind that the contrast between the full and part-time teacher of Medicine, is not that one is a theoretical and one a practical instructor, but that the full-time teacher is one whose whole work is with patients in hospitals. From the teaching point of view, the hospital parallels the laboratory, the patients parallel the material.

The completion of the arrangements for the introduction of this system during the session 1924-25 was due to the generous co-operation of the Governors of the Royal Victoria Hospital and to the broad-minded inspiring and open-handed assistance of the Rockefeller Foundation. As a result there will be established in the Royal Victoria Hospital a University clinic, organized on lines which the Rockefeller Foundation, the Hospital and the University have agreed upon, as the most satisfactory.

The director of the clinic will be the chief medical officer of the Royal Victoria Hospital, the Professor of Medicine in McGill University and Chairman of the Department of Medicine. He will devote his entire time to the treatment of patients in the Hospital to teaching and research, and as the head of the clinic will be the chief medical officer of the Hospital. He will have at his disposal such teaching beds as he requires and will also have control of the out-patient department.

The staff, in addition to the head, will be composed in part of men who will give their entire time to the work, and in part of men who also engage in private practice, and no man will be appointed to the medical staff of the clinic whose name does not carry with it the recommendation, sanction and approval of the Boards of Governors of the University and of the Royal Victoria Hospital.

The Royal Victoria Hospital will give space for the reorganized laboratory equip this laboratory and maintain the equipment up to the standard which may be agreed to by the director and the Hospital.

One director and professor.

Three or four full-time assistants.

Two senior part-time teachers.

Ten junior part-time assistants and teachers with a full staff of nurses technicians, etc.

The head of the clinic will be the head of the Department of Medicine of McGill University, that is he will organ

What Do You Get For Your Money?

Do you know? Would'nt be unusual if you didn't because thousands upon thousands permit carelessness to blind them to true facts.

It's just as easy to get "value" as not to get it. Both are habits. One pays, one does'nt. Comparison tells the story. And that brings us to the question of taxis and fares.

There are lots of taxis in Montreal. Good—bad—and indifferent. Some charge one price—others another. In fact you can pay as MUCH as you want depending on how CARELESS you are.

On the other hand if you're out to buy the best taxi service in Montreal at the lowest price -- it isn't hard. All you need to do is to COMPARE. That's the way to SMOKE out the facts.

If you are a Yellow Cab patron exclusively you pay 20% less than for any other taxi service in Montreal! That's a down right fact!

You see --- we operate on what is known as the "30 cents a mile basis"—the nearest to us is a "40 cents a mile basis". That's not very close. BUT then the taxi history of Montreal shows that's about as close as competition ever gets to Yellow Cab rates and service.

Economical? Yes! -- and the largest, safest and, best too! Why not take advantage of it? It's the easiest thing in the world to remember our phone number—ine, supervise, direct and control teaching and research wherever teaching is done by the McGill Medical School. It is the intention to continue to use the Montreal General Hospital to the fullest possible extent. Those who teach there will be on a part-time basis but, of course, not constituting any of touch there will be a part-time basis the clinic established at the Royal Victoria Hospital. The head of the Department of Medicine at the Montreal General Hospital will hold the rank of Professor of Medicine and will have a seat on the Faculty.

The expense of an organization such as this will of course, be considerable, and it would have been quite impossible for the University to meet the cost from its own resources. Assistance was, however, forthcoming. The Royal Victoria Hospital, in addition to the sums already expended on their department of Medicine, appropriated $15,000.00 per annum to help in covering the additional expenditure. The balance of the cost is to come from the income of an endowment of $500,000.00 which, after full consideration of the proposed plan by the Division of Medical Education, was presented to the University by the Rockefeller Foundation.

It was with great gratitude that the University accepted the help so generously given, the hearty co-operation of the Hospital authorities and the devotion and interest of those members of the staff and friends of the University who contributed their services to bring our plans to successful fruition.

Another change made in the Faculty has for some years possessed a department of Experimental Medicine which has for the most part been occupied by the study of surgical problems, the work being continued to surgeons. This department has for the past three years completely reorganized and has been placed under the charge of the Professor of Pharmacology who has been given full facilities to enable him to deal with it. His work is to be carried on both in the Laboratories and in the Hospitals.

Another most important advance was marked by the final completion of the Pathological Institute and its equipment. The building was taken over during the last session and at its formal opening on October 8th, by one of the most gratifying acts of the Governors, Principal, the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Quebec bestowed one of our most valuable endowments.
